Positive Behavior Supports: Individual and School-wide Approaches

Presented by:
Susan Izeman, PhD, BCBA and
Todd Kellogg, MA, LMFT
Greenwich Autism Program

Thursday, November 15, 2007
8:00 a.m. – Noon
Norwalk Inn and Conference Center
99 East Avenue, Norwalk, CT

Brought to you by:

Supported by the
CT State Department of Education

This workshop is for:

General education and special education teachers, administrators, parents, and other educators interested in supporting children with behavior challenges.

This workshop will cover:

- Definition of Positive Behavioral Supports
- Philosophy and assumptions of PBS
- School-wide strategies for reducing problems and increasing positive behavior for all students
- Functional assessment of problem behaviors
- Developing, implementing, and evaluating individual behavior plans

Expected outcomes:

Participants will increase their understanding of the benefits of positive behavioral strategies; the basic assumptions and steps associated with PBS; strategies for increasing positive behaviors for all children.

Participants will be able to identify the major functions of problem behaviors; use functional information to develop prevention and reaction strategies; use behavior information to teach replacement skills for problem behavior; identify classroom-wide or school-wide strategies for building success.

Your instructors:

Susan Izeman is Director of the the Greenwich Autism Program of ARC-Greenwich, CT. Dr. Izeman is a Board Certified Behavior Analyst and has worked with children with autism spectrum disorders and children with challenging behavior for almost 30 years. As GAP's director, Dr. Izeman has provided consultation to families, community agencies, and schools. Much of that consultation has been related to supporting children with autism spectrum disorders at home, in childcare settings, and in schools.

Todd Kellogg is a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist and a Behavior & Family Therapy Consultant for the Greenwich Autism Program of ARC-Greenwich, CT. At the Greenwich Autism Program, Mr. Kellogg works primarily with families with children with autism and other developmental disabilities. The focus of treatment is often the development and implementation of a Positive Behavior and Parenting Plan (PBPP) to address difficult behaviors while teaching new skills and promoting alternative behaviors.
